ACL Older Americans Act Reauthorization Signed into Law

Statement from Assistant Secretary for Aging Kathy Greenlee

President Obama signed the Older Americans Act Reauthorization Act of 2016 into law today, reaffirming our nation's commitment to the health and well-being of older adults. Earlier this year, the President called on Congress to reauthorize this important legislation as part of his remarks at the White House Conference on Aging.

For more than 50 years, the Older Americans Act has helped people live the lives they want, with the people they choose, throughout their lives. Through the aging services network, it has helped older adults continue to work, play and volunteer in their communities, to the great benefit of all. Because of the Older Americans Act, neighborhoods and organizations across the country are able to continue to draw upon the wealth of knowledge that comes only with life experience.

The OAA underpins a promise to preserve the right to live independently, with dignity, making everyday decisions according to our individual preferences and goals across our lifespan. This promise is more important than ever. In a few short years, more than 77 million people will be over the age of 60, and more than 34 million people—mostly family and friends—will be supporting a loved one who is over 60. These numbers will continue to grow for the next several decades.

The OAA affects everyone—older adults, people who help support them, and all of us who hope to one day grow old. I am delighted to see its reauthorization, and I am deeply grateful for the renewed commitment to preserving the rights of all people, for the full course of our lives.

Louisiana Severe Storms and Flooding (DR-4263)

On March 8-11, 2016, Louisiana was hit with a strong upper level storm system that brought showers and thunderstorms from west to east across most of the state. Heavy rainfall, flash flooding, river flooding and damaging winds were the main result of this storm system. Damage to the hardest hit areas continue to be assessed. The aging network continues to assess client needs for those who may have property damage, which was a direct result from flash flooding and river flooding. In some areas of the state, there were more than 20 inches of rainfall in less than 48 hours of time. This storm system caused agency closures, service interruption, road closures (roads washed out, bridges damaged and overall flooding of roads) and facility/property damage for provider agencies and clients. Applications for federal individual assistance may be completed online at www.fema.gov or by calling 1-800-621-3362 or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY)

Reminders:

- Registering with a community or faith-based group does not register you with FEMA
- Both homeowners and renters may be eligible
- Register even if you have insurance because not all damage may be covered by your insurance policy
- Register even if you only had minor damages
- Register if your home is still inaccessible.
- Register even if you think you will be ineligible. There may be other programs that you may be eligible for.
- Hurricane season will begin June 1. BE PREPARED!

OLDER AMERICANS MONTH

BLAZE A TRAIL: MAY 2016

May is Older American's Month with a month of fresh beginnings. Flowers bloom bringing bright color to the landscape. The 2016 Older Americans Month theme is "Blaze a Trail".
